

S. KANN, SONS & CO.

Now for a Glorious Wind-up.

This Week Will Be the Ending of the Greatest of all Sales.

Every vestige of Saks & Co.'s spring and summer stocks of Women's, Misses', and Children's Wear is scheduled to go. Nothing is to remain. We have sold the bulk of this purchase, and whatever is left which is unseasonable and not wanted now will be put away until some other time. Now come to your own conclusion and figure out what this means.

NOTICE.—Our establishment will close every evening at 5 o'clock, commencing Monday, July 8, Saturdays, excepted. This announcement will hold good until further notice.

They inspected the room in which Ayres was killed, the rooms adjoining, each of which was occupied by a young woman, and also the fire escape leading from fourth to the second stories of the building. After their investigation the jury adjourned without returning to the city hall, and will resume the hearing of testimony tomorrow.

Helped to Pay a Cyclist's Fine.

Policeman E. L. Lake appeared in the Police Court yesterday in the role of the good Samaritan, and through his generosity Charles Stevenson, a well-dressed white man, was relieved of a most embarrassing situation. Stevenson was arrested before Judge Kimball on a charge of having ridden his bicycle without a light and was fined $2. He told the judge that he had only $1 in his pockets, and was about to be returned to the cells when Lake, who was a disinterested listener to the proceedings, arose and advanced the much-needed money, which was accepted with many thanks and assurance of obligation.

Smashed a Show Window.

Matthew Fay pleaded guilty in the Police Court yesterday to smashing a show window on Seventh Street Friday night. In default of a fine of $10 he went to the workhouse for thirty days.

A Small Fire in a Shed.

Without Means of Support.

Henry Delavan, sixty years old, was sent to the Alms-house from the Police Court by Judge Kimball yesterday. A policeman said that Delavan was a physical wreck and utterly incapable of taking care of himself. The policeman added that Delavan had a sister living in the north-west section of the city, but that she had shown no disposition to help him. Yesterday last, when she allowed him to sleep in her woodshed, and he had set the shed on fire one night by overturning a gasoline stove.
